"FILL 'ER UP" says the truck driver as excavating for the proposed new gymnasium continues. The site is the rear of Donnelly Hall where initial preparations for the new athletic plant are being made. The first phase of operations will consist of excavating for the foundation before the frost sets in. Actual construction is not expected to begin before spring.

Marshall, Finneran Attend New York A.C.P. Convention

James J. Marshall and Robert E. Finneran, co-editors of the Cowl, attended the 28th annual Associated Collegiate Press Conference at the Hotel Statler in New York last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Thursday afternoon the delegates attended a television newscast given by Doug Edwards of CBS Television. The same afternoon Dick Murphy, President of the National Student Association, spoke on the relationship between student editors and student government.

Thursday evening a panel discussion concerning, "If I Were a College Editor Today," was given. Panelists were James Wechsler, editor of the New York Post; Michael Harrington, editor of the Catholic Worker and Fred L. Kildow, director, Associated Collegiate Press. John Tebbel, vice-chairman of the New York University Department of Journalism, was chairman of the panel. The panel discussion, characterized by several debates by the members concerning freedom of the college press, proved to be very profitable to the audience. It was generally agreed that if any attacks or criticisms are to be made of anything in the school that it should be sure to be substantiated by established facts. Following the meeting the delegates from various colleges throughout the country met each other and talked over problems concerned with the individuals' newspapers.

Friday morning conferences were concerned with a two hour clinic on make-up and typography given by Thomas Barnhart, Professor of Journalism from the University of

Birdie Tebbetts, Terry Reardon Featured Speakers At Monday's Twin Sports Forum

Next Monday night the extension school course, "Sports Appreciation and Leisure Time," will present a double panel discussion. Starting at 7:45 p.m. the forum will concern itself with hockey. Terry Reardon, coach of the Rhode Island Reds, will be the guest panelist; he will be accompanied by Dan Norton, a hockey official and Dick Rondeau, coach of the Providence College hockey team.

Terry Reardon is well known throughout Rhode Island, and in hockey circles for having played with the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League before becoming a player-coach with the Rhode Island pucksters.

Rondeau, who is starting his first year as Friar Hockey coach, is equally well versed and known throughout Rhode Island. He began his hockey career at Hope High, continued it at Mt. St. Charles Academy, and attained national prominence while playing for Dartmouth.

This panel will begin at 8:15, and will be followed by a forum which should prove to be equally interesting, the topic of the second being baseball.

Serving as guest on the latter panel will be George "Birdie" Tebbetts, a Providence College graduate and catcher for the Cleveland Indians. Birdie will be assisted by Hal Martin, Providence College baseball coach and Frank Holland, who was captain of the first Friar baseball team.

Birdie hardly needs an introduction, being a perennial favorite around these parts ever since he started playing major league ball with the Detroit Tigers moving later to the Boston Red Sox and now with the Indians. He

VARSITY BASKETBALL
Varsity basketball will begin Sat. at 1:30. All those interested are asked to attend, but they must sign up at the athletic office prior to the first practice. Freshmen will begin Monday.

Daglis Is Newly Elected President Of ROTC Band

Arthur Daglis, a senior education major, was elected president of the ROTC band last week. Daglis plays baritone in the band.

Other officers elected include: Leo Lavalle, vice-president, and Gene Toro, secretary.

Daglis, a resident of Newport, was a member of the Rogers High School band which won all-state honors in 1947 and 1948, and which also won first place honors at the New England Music Festival in 1948.

President Daglis has announced that a concert band is going to be formed in the early part of November.

Daglis asked every one who can play a musical instrument to join the concert band.

Bloodmobile Will Be Located In Harkins Hall Next Week

Students' Support Is Urged

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be here at Providence College on the 3rd and 6th of November to collect much-needed blood from the students. A quick return of pledge cards is necessary so that a schedule can be made in order that all students wishing to donate blood can be accommodated. On Monday, Nov. 3rd, the bloodmobile will be here from 10:45 to 3:30, and on Thursday, Nov. 6th, from 9:30 to 2:30.

CORRECTION PLEASE
The date for the Farmers Festival is Saturday, November 22. Through an oversight it was erroneously reported in last weeks issue that the date was set as November 17.

Junior Ring Groups To Work Together

Last Friday afternoon in the Student Congress Office, the Junior Class Ring Committee met in conjunction with the Student Congress Ring Committee. It was decided that both committees will work in harmony using for reference the files of the Student Congress.

Mr. Conway, chairman of the Student Congress committee, stated that his committee will only act as an advisory committee and that the final selection of the ring will be made by the Juniors as in the past. He then proceeded to explain the past history of the ring question and how the rings have been selected in past years. He also stated that all the Junior representatives will meet when the various ring salesmen visit the campus.

Complete cooperation on the part of both committees was then assured when the meeting adjourned.

Thespians To Ballot For Officers Today

Elections of officers for the Pyramid Players will be held at the second meeting of the dramatic group this afternoon at 1:15 in room 304. After the election of officers, discussion on the choice of plays for the coming year will be held. Fr. Larnen, the club's moderator, invites all students who are interested in any field of dramatics, including actors, writers, stage hands, etc., to attend this meeting.

At the first meeting of the group held last week, Fr. Larnen announced that all plots for the annual musical must be submitted by December first. Anyone can submit his plot, music or words for the musical to Fr. Larnen. Approximately thirty students attended the meeting and voted to postpone the elections until today.

Tertiaries Will Conduct Conferences In Oratory

To accommodate the large number of students who have expressed interest in the Third Order of St. Dominic, short meetings will be held in the oratory of Harkins Hall, Friday at 9, 10, and 11 a.m. Any student unable to attend any of these meetings may attend the noonday session in Room 214 of Harkins Hall.

The advantages offered to students by the Third Order will be discussed as will the plans for the coming year.

Barristers Orate At UConn. Debate

On October 25, the Providence College debating team journeyed to the University of Connecticut, to participate in a non-decision debate tournament. The topic discussed was, resolved: That the Congress of the United States should enact a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Law.

Two teams represented the P. C. debating club. Dick Buckley and Gene Voll comprised the affirmative team, opposing Trinity, Williams College, and Boston University.

On the negative team were Dick Fogarty and Tom Zipoli who opposed the University of Connecticut, Northeastern, and Williams College. John

Friars Club Formal To Be Held Dec. 5

The Friars Club is now planning for its annual holiday formal to be held in Harkins Hall Auditorium on December 5. A new feature of this year's formal will be the selection of a queen.

The method of selecting a queen will be as follows: All members of regional clubs who are going to attend the dance will submit pictures to their club officers. The officers will select one girl to represent their club. Pictures must be submitted with the name of the girl and the name of the club and must be submitted to the Student Congress office between November 10 and November 21. The Friars Club will select the finalists. On the night of the dance the pictures of the finalists will be on display, and each couple will receive two ballots to vote for the queen of the dance.

Coatesmen Elect Bob Tiernan Indoor And Outdoor Captain

By John J. Salesses

During the excitement of closing up shop, final examinations, and the general confusion that automatically occurs in the final week of school, little note was made of the election of Robert Tiernan as captain of Providence College's indoor and outdoor track squads.

Last June, at the final track meet of the season held at Fitton Field in Worcester, Bob was chosen by his teammates to lead them in this 52-53 season. This was not a sudden or overhasty move by the trackmen. They recognized that Bob was the most capable and suitable man for the job.

Bob began his track career at La Salle Academy from which he graduated in 1948. While at La Salle he was All-State in hockey in his junior year as well as in track. The next year Bob Harold Higgins, chairman, has announced that the turnout as of October 24 was very poor. Mr. Higgins further said that Providence College now has the record for the amount of blood donated in one day—183 pints—in the Providence Chapter. If this record is to be broken many more donors are needed. All students who are physically able should give a pint of critically needed blood.

Higgins also reminded the students that giving blood is a simple and painless operation, with no adverse after-effects. Those who sign up will be given a brief set of instructions to follow on the day they make their donations.

The Department of Defense recently made an appeal to all college students to aid their relatives and friends in Korea by sending a pint of their badly needed blood to them.

Everyone who fulfills the following requirements should give a pint of blood on either Nov. 3rd or 6th.

1. Age must be between 18 to 59 inclusive. 18 to 20 with signed parental release or release of spouse.
2. 110 pounds or over.
3. Eight weeks between donations—not more than five donations in one year.
4. No operations or blood transfusions in past six months.
5. No jaundice due to infectious hepatitis.

Placement Meeting Series Begin Nov. 3

Beginning on Monday, Nov. 3, a series of 5 Senior Career Placement conferences will take place in Harkins Hall.

All members of the Senior class are urged to attend one conference. If there is anyone who will be having classes on any of the dates listed below was All-State in track for the half-mile outdoor and the 1000 indoors.

Here at P.C. Bob has set records and has many "firsts". In his freshman year Bob, along with Jim Gannon, Joe Tetreault, and Pop Johnson brought Providence College its first trophy. In his sophomore year "Wah" became Eastern Champ in the outdoor 440. He also was a member of the National Champion relay team in indoor competition. The fastest 600 ever run at Providence College, 1:12.2, was attained by Bob when he ran against Boston University.

Captain Tiernan is the founder and editor of the Spike Shoe Paper, a member of the Monogram Club for three years and a member of the Providence Club.

Three other members of the Tiernan clan have caused their name to

Stevenson

We have witnessed some refreshing phenomenon during the present presidential campaign. We have heard a man speak with eloquence rare in politics; a man who is unafraid to put forth his wisdom. He has not spoken above the voters heads as some have insisted, nor below their intelligence. He has directed his campaign at the whole man not just to his emotional faculties, but also to his intellectual and spiritual faculties. This man is of course, Adlai Stevenson.

One might reasonably ask, is this enough to qualify him for the Presidency? In itself, no. A man could be very articulate, but also quite ignorant. However, Stevenson has other qualities that make him very fit for the position. He has had executive experience as a governor; he has proved his statesmanship by campaigning as a statesman; and he has looked ahead to the solving of problems that confront us now, rather than looking backward to what has already been accomplished.

He realizes that a doctrine of self-interest is impossible for America because, "We have become guardians of a civilization built in pain, in anguish and in heroic hope . . . If we creak, the world will groan. If we slip, the world will fall."

He has not promised any quick, easy, or cheap panaceas for our troubles. His words for the future are simple, yet moving. "How long can we keep up the fight against this monster tyranny (Communism). How long can we keep up the fight in Korea, paying high taxes, helping others to help ourselves? There is only one answer—we can keep it up as long as we have to, and we will."

One might argue that what Stevenson has said does not make sense and that he is only echoing the moldy Democratic platitudes built up during the twenty years of power. To say this is not to do the man justice, because he has tried, and succeeded to a great extent, to show that he is not a slave of the past nor a rigid apologist for the past Democratic administrations. If the people desire a change, here is the man who can give them a fresh approach to government.

LAMBIC CANDIDATE? . . .

To Mr. Nixon from the Daily Californian, University of California: "Barefoot boy with cheeks of tan, what have you done with the 18 grand?"

Editors' Note:

In compliance with the many recent requests, and in order to clarify for the benefit of all the students the scope of the powers of the Student Congress, we are publishing a copy of the Student Congress Constitution (See Page 3).

VOTE

One week from this date, the election will be history and either Adlai Stevenson or General Eisenhower will have been elected President of the United States. One of these men will have convinced enough people that He Is The Man. It has been the main goal of the campaigners to get the members of the electorate to vote for them. This voting business is an important one so it might be well to look into it.

People get bored with politics because they have the false idea that a politician does nothing but run for office or try to get a friend of his elected. That is a hard fact as far as average politicians are concerned, but to the voters, it is of least importance because it does not make too much difference to the average citizen what name is borne by the governor, senator, or representative. What is most important to them is that whoever he is, or whatever his name is, they want him to be an honest man. In this election, the people should have no trouble in this regard because the vast majority of candidates for all offices are honest men.

But, even with this assurance, there are a large number of people in this country who will not take the trouble to vote. In the year of 1950, they amounted to more than half of those who were eligible. Undoubtedly, many of these people have reasons for not voting but these reasons would include a great many of apathy and indifference. True, the question, "Why should I vote?" is a complex one and no pat answer can be given to it. However, the voter who searches his heart in good faith will find an answer he deems suitable.

The political parties we have in this country are both broadly based and easily encompass the majority of the electorate. Even if a person has no preference for a presidential candidate, there are still many other elected offices to fill. Certainly it is difficult to comprehend a citizen who has so completely detached himself from public affairs that he has no interest in any political contest. While the phrase, "Regardless of how you vote, vote" may seem somewhat hackneyed, it still has merit.

Give A Pint

We American college students are a very fortunate group of people. Going to class, studying, our social life, and even working are surely not such a bad life. Our privileges far outweigh our responsibilities.

All members of our generation have not been so fortunate, however. While we went to college, they went into our armed forces. Many were ordered to duty in Korea, where they fought, suffered, died and were wounded. We must remember that those in khaki do not have a priority on devotion to duty. Just as we must support our missionaries in the field with prayers and donations, so is it our duty to help our countrymen in Korea who are doing so much to help us. This is not sentimental flag-waving, but a simple statement of facts. Our soldiers are daily giving their blood for each and every one of us. Certainly justice requires that we give it back to them, that is to those who can receive it.

Providence College students will be put on the spot when the bloodmobile rolls on the campus next week. Many people regard college students as parasitic intellectuals leading a life of leisure through deferments while their sons and loved ones are dragged away from home to serve their country. If we make less than a very good showing next week, their allegations will be justified. Remember, a mother who has seen her son called to the colors, makes extreme sacrifices, and then receives word that he was wounded, will certainly not be too lenient towards college men who lack the basic decency to take a little time from their abundance of it to help their fellow men.

We as Catholic gentlemen, with our philosophical and theological training behind us, should be able to lead our not so fortunate brethren to see and do their duty.

Therefore charity, justice, duty, and common decency unite to demand that, when the bloodmobile comes here next Monday and Thursday every physically fit student should "give a pint to save a life."

Eisenhower

Ever since his nomination, Governor Stevenson has done a great deal of talking about corruption in government. Needless to say, he has taken an unequivocal stand against all forms of vice, be they public or private; and there is no reason to assume that he will change his position on this question, as he has on the Federal F.E.P.C. matter and the Taft-Hartley Law. Of course, every politician knows it is not exactly politically expedient to come out publicly for sin, but that is beside the point. The Governor has stated time after time, and in every conceivable manner, that, if elected, he will ruthlessly root out all malefactors and send them packing.

Now, taken at face value, this sounds pretty impressive; but, unfortunately for Adlai, we have a little bit more to go on than his own rhetoric. We have his record as Governor of Illinois; and, as far as the corruption issue is concerned, it is somewhat less impressive than his righteous declamations.

During Adlai's tenure as chief executive of Illinois, six major scandals occurred. They are: (1) horsemeat scandal (twenty million pounds of horsemeat were sold as hamburger); (2) cigarette tax fraud; (3) Chicago Downs Race Track stock deal; (4) Illinois mine disaster; (5) Slot machine scandal (F.B.I. raids uncovered thousands of slot machines after Adlai had asserted they had all been rounded up); and (6) big contributions from those holding state contracts and 2% of salary contributions by state employees.

Do these scandals indicate that Adlai will ride herd on corrupt government officials? I think not. I say this not because I think he is dishonest, but because he has proved he doesn't even know what and where corruption is. His own inspector of foods and dairies was taking bribes from the head of the horsemeat racket right under Adlai's nose, and not a whiff of defunct equine meat penetrated the Governor's nostrils. But, on second thought, I may be too harsh on poor old Steve. Who knows, he may have had a head cold that day.

To sum up my position on this question, Stevenson is pathetically naive when it comes to extirpating wrongdoers. And this, added to the fact that he is Deep Freeze Harry's protege, makes it totally impossible for him to reinstate honest government in this country. The United States sorely needs a complete change of administration, and the man to head this new slate is Dwight David Eisenhower.

By-Laws

ARTICLE 1. ELECTION OF ACTIVE MEMBERS TO THE CONGRESS

Section 1. The several class presidents shall conduct the elections of their respective class delegates to the Congress.

Section 2. Candidates for the Congress must take nomination papers from the Office of the Dean of Discipline.

Section 3. Candidates must have the following qualifications in order to take out nomination papers.

A. Scholastic average of at least C, with no failures.

B. Approved personnel record.

Section 4. Nomination papers must be signed by at least fifty members of the candidates class and shall be deposited with the Secretary of the Congress within five days.

Section 5. No student shall endorse more nomination papers than the total number of elected delegates from his class.

Section 6. Names of eligible nominees shall be published on the official bulletin board.

Section 7. The President of the Congress shall, one month previous to the date, designate some class day between the 20th and 30th of April as the day on which all class delegates shall be elected. The names of the elected delegates shall be published on the official bulletin board. Members of the outgoing Senior Class shall not be eligible to vote in these elections.

ARTICLE 2. ELECTION OF PASSIVE MEMBERS OF THE CONGRESS

Passive members shall be chosen by the several groups whom they shall represent in the Congress.

ARTICLE 3. THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF THE CONGRESS

The Officers of the Student Congress shall be chosen from among the delegates to the Congress by the student body at an election to be held not less than five nor more than ten days after the election of delegates. The officers of the Congress shall conduct these elections. Members of the outgoing Senior Class shall not be eligible to vote in these elections.

ARTICLE 4. DUTIES OF OFFICERS

Section 1. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Congress, direct its activities, perform all other parliamentary duties which his office implies, and represent the student body officially when occasion demands.

Section 2. The Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the President in the latter's absence and shall succeed to the presidency, if it be vacant. He shall also act as the President of the Freshman Class until that class has elected its officers, and shall represent the Freshman Class in the Congress during the first semester of the scholastic year. (See Amendment 1 of By-Laws).

Section 3. The Secretary shall keep the minutes of all records of the Congress.

Section 4. The Treasurer shall negotiate all financial transactions of the Congress.

Section 2. It shall present to the College Authorities all justified requests, opinions, complaints and grievances.

Section 3. It shall give due consideration to any proposal that any student or group of students may lay before it in writing. It may hold referenda or polls on any proposal when requested to do so by the College Authorities or by the written petition of 25 per cent of the student body.

Section 4. It shall regulate the social calendar of the student body and have jurisdiction over it.

Section 5. It shall conduct and supervise all nominations and elections of class officers.

Section 6. It shall voice all official expressions of student loyalty or sympathy.

Section 7. It shall supervise all independently organized general student meetings.

Section 8. It shall have the right to use the means of public announcement available on the campus.

Section 9. It shall have the right to deny voice and vote for violations of its laws.

Section 10. When occasion warrants, it shall summon to a hearing and impose sanctions upon any student or student organization for violation of the laws and regulations of the Congress. The defendant so summoned may employ any other student of College as counsel, and may appeal the decision of the Congress to the Dean of Discipline.

Section 11. (See Amendment II of By-Laws)

ARTICLE 6. MEETINGS

Section 1. A majority of the active members of the Congress shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all annual, regular, and special meetings.

Section 2. All meetings of the Congress shall be open to the student body, except when the Congress by a three-fourth vote shall order a closed session for extraordinary business.

Section 3. All voting shall be by show of hands unless the Congress by a majority vote in special cases shall order a secret ballot.

Section 4. In all cases where not inconsistent with this Constitution and its By-Laws, Roberts Rules of Order (revised) shall govern the procedure of meetings of the Congress.

Section 5. Procedure at meetings:

- (a) Prayer by Faculty Adviser
- (b) Roll Call
- (c) Reading of minutes of previous meeting
- (d) Reports of Committees
- (e) Special orders
- (f) Unfinished Business
- (g) New Business
- (h) Prayer and adjournment.

ARTICLE 7. AMENDMENTS

These By-Laws may be supplemented or amended by two-thirds of the total membership of the Congress, said vote to be taken at two successive regular meetings.

ARTICLES IN ADDITION TO, AND AMENDMENT OF, THE BY-LAWS OF THE STUDENT CONGRESS, PROPOSED AND RATIFIED BY THE CONGRESS, PURSUANT TO THE SEVENTH ARTICLE OF THE ORIGINAL BY-LAWS.

AMENDMENT ONE

Amendment to Article 4, Section 2:

The Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the President in the latter's absence and shall succeed to the Presidency if it be vacant. # Friars Will Meet Terriers Tomorrow, Bruins Monday

Lohner Leads Friars To Initial Victory On Hendricken Course

This Thursday afternoon the Friars cross-country team will duel Boston University at Hendricken Field in their second home meet of the year. The Terriers, last year's New England champions, will be lead by Johnny Kelly, top man in this section last year, Al Collins, Phil Palamountain, Wily Smity, Jim Cameron and Gary Beckwith.

The Terriers were beaten in their opener with Dartmouth, but since then they have bounced back and won the rest of their meets. This will definitely be one of the tougher races for the Coatesmen, but they will start out with somewhat of an advantage since they will be racing on their home grounds.

After the Terriers, the Friars will face Brown here on Monday afternoon. Although the Bears have lost meets to Yale, Rhode Island and a triangler meet in Boston, they still boast a team that features Walt Molineux, one of the best harriers in the East, Bill Reid, Alex Stuart, Adrian Ise and Tom Tritchler. Last year the meet was won by Providence by the lopsided score of 20 to 40, but Walt Molineux of Brown took top honors.

In last Friday's meet against Holy Cross the Friars returned to the win column by outrunning the Crusaders by the score of 18-41.

Providence College's cross country team returned to the win column last Friday when they outran the Crusaders from Holy Cross 18-41.

Again Chris Lohner proved himself as top-man. His time was, 21:54. Providence's team was not to be denied this win with Dick Lee, who place second; Bill Hennigan, fourth; Capt. Dick Johnson, fifth; and Herb Waters, sixth; providing the depth for the scoring. Others to finish for the Friars were Methia (9), Dick Tiernan (10), Sullivan (11), and Prairie (12). The first man to finish for Holy Cross was Conroy who placed third.

In the Freshman meet Providence had another win by the score of 18-37. Allen, Wallock, and Madden placed first, second, and third, respectively, to close out the junior Crusaders. Tedesco, fifth and Steen, seventh, were the other Frosh to score for P. C.

ATTENTION BOWLERS

There will be a meeting today at 12:30 p.m. in room 217 of Harkins Hall for all students interested in forming a bowling league.

It will be the purpose of this meeting to enumerate the coming season's events and to organize an intra-mural bowling league.

Students interested in the league, but unable to attend the meeting are asked to contact either Jim Fraher or Harry Nesbitt.

Yanks Pace Grid Circuit

By Bill Flanagan

As the strong Intramural Football League heads into its fifth week of action, the championship race is getting closer, and this week could go a long way towards settling the outcome with the three top clubs in action against each other. On Oct. 28, the second place Providence Club goes against third place Sr. Business, with both clubs having perfect records so far. Two days later the Providence boys complete a tough week when they oppose the undefeated league leading Connecticut Yankees at 12:30 P.M., in what should be the outstanding game of the year. Complete details of that game will be covered in the next issue of the Cowl. In 1st week's outstanding game Sr. Business gave a good indication of their offensive power by walloping Sr. Science in a wild scoring 51-38 clash.

As the year rolls on Intramural basketball will soon be in the spotlight and Mr. Drew has announced that entry blanks for teams desiring to compete can be secured at the Athletic Office, 106 Harkins. These entries must be filed by noon November 5, 1952. A complete list of rules is located on the bulletin board in the athletic locker room in the rear of Harkins Hall.

Hockey Team Has Practice

On last Wednesday the Friar hockey hopefuls assembled at the Rhode Island Auditorium. Among the returning veterans from last year's informal team were Army, Petite, Wholey, Charland, Farrell, Schromm, the Kirby brothers, Reilly, McAleer, White along with the new hopefuls including Gilheany Cronin, Costa, O'Connor, Monahan, Sweeney, Reall, Laguex, Hornstein Shea, Getting, Lamoureux, Lange, O'Sullivan, DeBlasio, Turcotte, Shunney, Hazian, and Buonocore. Listed in this material is a wealth of experience and the prospects looked bright for a good year even with the tough schedule that the team faces.

Coach Rondeau put the boys through a scrimmage with a constant changing of lines and substituting of men in order to find the best combination. Nothing definite was established at either Wednesday's or Thursday's practice, except that the boys improved greatly with only one day's skating. Besides scrimmage there was speed skating to help with the physical conditioning.

PHIL-INS

*King Christian Lohner Carries Crown
For PC Like Hound Dog After Rabbits*

PHIL GRIFFIN

Last Friday afternoon I watched Christian Lohner dash madly from the backstop at Hendricken Field to a point just short of the wooden track. Also in attendance were members of the student body, faculty, and coaching staff of our institution. They all seemed quite interested in Christian's progress across Hendricken's wind-swept confines. To a casual observer this might have all seemed quite ridiculous. No one was chasing the boy, threatening him with bodily harm if he didn't stop. In fact, he was quite alone as he bolted over the turf. Yet, all eyes were on him. Why?

Lohner Way in Front

Well, you see King Christian was running in a cross-country meet under the banner of Providence College. About twenty minutes before, he and numerous other gentlemen from P.C. and Holy Cross had started to run all over Smith Hill from a point near home plate. They had all been bunched tightly together when the thing began. They were stretched out like the Thousand Islands when it was all over, and King Christian had run away from the rest of the group as if he despised the lot of them. Maybe the others just didn't want to run with the boy. In any rate, he was set apart like an Englishman in the St. Patrick's Day parade when he came across that field.

The amazing thing about the monarch from New Jersey is that he can run a distance exceeding four miles, then cover the last hundred yards like a hound dog after a rabbit. Another amazing note was that nobody was astounded over the lad's lopsided victory; they've come to expect it of him. You expect Bobby Moran to score in basketball; you expect Eddie Ryder to hit in baseball; and you expect Chris Lohner to win in cross-country. The old saw about "death and taxes" would apply in King Christian's case.

Kaydets Well-Nigh Invincible

Not so long ago the harriers made a trip up the Hudson to the Military Academy. Up in that austere atmosphere the Army breeds future officers and outstanding cross-country teams. On their own course, so high up in the ionosphere that oxygen masks are the order of the day, the Kaydets are well-nigh invincible. They show their backs consistently to the best hill-and-dalers the East can offer up for slaughter. It is rumored that the soldiers beat a team of mountain goats by a perfect score on their scenic trail just above the group of buildings that Benedict Arnold once assumed responsibility for an infamous bill of sale.

The Friars lost that day, but King Christian showed his heels to a good many of the mobile ramrods from the "Point". The team performed nobly on this unfamiliar layout, but Chris really earned the right to wear the purple. He has earned that right in lieu of his past performances. Henceforth, King Christian shall be Jersey's representative to the Knights of the Monogram.

Allen Frosh Star

It takes all kinds to make up a cross-country team, and our freshman team is a prime example. This boy Allen, who won the laurels for P.C. in the frosh race as convincingly as Lohner did in the varsity run, is built along Gunder Haag lines. In the words of the immortal bard, Henry Francis McQueen, "He'd be marked absent if he stood sideways." In other words, he's built like a true runner, in the tradition of all fine runners. Little Joe Steen finished in fine style, although he had to take two steps to the other boys one. Teddy Tedesco is another of the remarkable. He's built like a light-heavyweight boxer, yet he rumbled around the course fast enough last Friday to finish fifth. And the "Cross" had a couple of boys that looked like they'd be more at home playing right tackle than running around in short pants.

And in closing I'd like to thank Chris Lohner for his newsworthy performances in his chosen field. Long may he reign.

Deadline For Draft Test Application Is Saturday

Selective Service officials today reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the December 4 Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight November 1 (Saturday), and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered. Local draft boards have an adequate supply of test application blanks on hand for draft-eligible students.

Students are to mail their completed applications to Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

There are three sure things in this world: death, taxes, and another Providence College dance. Of these three, I think the last mentioned is least likely to succumb by natural causes. Perhaps you, being so preoccupied as you are with more newsworthy items, haven't noticed it, but every single issue of this year's COWL has carried a dance story.

Now, far be it from me to criticize this state of affairs; I like to dance as much as the next man. In fact, Fred Astaire forbid my even daring to oppose the frequency of these promenades. Everybody knows that the school spirit of a man is measured in direct proportion to the number of ticket stubs he has in his wallet. And anyone who hasn't even seen the Leonard Brothers, much less wandered around Harkins Auditorium to their melodious strains, is obviously a slacker.

But there is always room for improvement, so here are a few suggestions on this matter. Why not hire Gene Kelly as head of a new Hoofers Department (I'm sure the Administration would be only too willing to inaugurate such a department) and let him conduct seminars on the minutiae of turkey trot? Also, the students would come to class attired in tuxedos, just in case the Leonards or Eddie Zak and his boys should wander by. You, as editors of the campus weekly, could help too. Instead of going to all the trouble of announcing these affairs in your paper, you should ask the Student Congress to install a flagpole atop Harkins Hall, and hoist a wing collar on dance day. Or, if this isn't feasible, you could print schedules of both the "home" and "away" get-togethers. Eventually, leagues could be formed, marathons conducted, and suitable prizes awarded. I have a few old Dr. Scholl's foot pads which I would be glad to donate.

How about it, Editors, let's get the ball rolling.

Yours, in three-quarter time,
RAYMOND BOLGER.

Placement . . .

Now he is requested to consult with the Placement director.

The purpose of the conferences will be to prepare Seniors for interviews for post-graduation employment. The topics will include: Careers in Classics; Interview Etiquette; Letters of Application; To whom to write; Sources of Information; Personal Resume; Salaries; and, The Function of the Placement Office.

The times, dates and places are:
Mon., Nov. 3, 1:30 p.m., Room 208, Harkins Hall; Tues. Nov. 4, 9:30 a.m., Room 208, Harkins Hall; Wed., Nov. 5, 1:30 p.m., Room 210, Harkins Hall; Wed., Nov. 5, 7:30 p.m., Room 214, Harkins Hall; Thursday, Nov. 6, 10:30 a.m., Room 208, Harkins Hall.

301, Math 201, etc. and day of the week for each subject. 2. After writing out these items, be sure to have the slip stamped. The slip is invalid and will not be accepted by the professor unless it is stamped with the day and time. After being stamped, the original will be given to you to admit you to the class, and the duplicate will be kept for the record.

A student will not be readmitted to class without such a slip after he has been

A. absent

B. late

C. or refused admittance to class because of failure to wear a coat (not a jacket) and tie. In this latter case the student will incur an absence on his record for failure to appear in coat and tie. The only exception to this rule is a monogram sweater awarded by the College.

- Two latenesses count as one against your record.
- When you foresee that you cannot avoid being absent, you must first secure permission and upon returning bring with you a note, stating the reason from parent, guardian or doctor.
- Late slips will not be issued after a class has been in session for 15 minutes. You will have to take an absence if you are later than 15 minutes.

ROTC Cadets Visit Quonset Air Station

During the past week the first of a series of trips to nearby Armed Service installations was held. Thirty-six cadets led by Cadet Colonel Harry Bohlin traveled to the Quonset Point Naval Air Station and were taken on a guided tour throughout the most interesting facilities on the base.

The cadets viewed the base after lunch in the Officers Club. The Flight Logistics Wing, Ground Control Approach Division, Aerology and the control tower were some of the important sections of the base that were visited.

One of the most important tours was through the entire Transportation Division of the base. The visitors were shown the various stages of Preventive Maintenance, which they are now studying in class.

Tour of the U.S.S. Wright, a small class carrier, was the final phase of the cadet's trip.

Newporters Plan Dance

At a Newport Club meeting recently, further plans were made for the forthcoming Thanksgiving Dance.

The date was set as November 29 and the affair will take place at the Wanumetonomy Country Club in Middletown, R. I.

Plans were also furthered for the raffing of a radio to be held for the purpose of raising funds for the club.

President Henry James officiated at the meeting.

Janet Moreau, Helsinki Champ, Relates Experience At Panel

Last Monday night Providence College presented the fourth edition of its excellent sports panels, with Olympic star Jeannette Moreau as the feature attraction. With Miss Moreau on the panel were chairman Ed Martin, Mr. Fred Tootell, track coach at R.I.U., Francis McCarthy, P. C., '41, a track writer for the Providence Journal, and Harry Coates, who needs no introduction. Fr. Begley was the moderator.

"I've gotten more out of track than just physical activity," Miss Moreau stated. "I've improved myself professionally, socially, and intellectually." Later she added, when speaking of her experiences in the 1952 summer Olympic Games, that sports have made great strides in overcoming racial barriers. She also replied, in answer to a question, that although the United States team was not at first conscious of the intense rivalry with Russia, they became conscious of it as the games moved along. Jeannette said that the Russians lacked form, but made up for this deficiency with superb physical conditioning.

As was the case previously, the panel devoted part of its time to explaining the game from a spectator's standpoint. Mr. Tootell and Mr. Coates called on their vast wealth of experience in the field to clarify that point.

Jeannette also explained her introduction to track. In high school she was a swimmer, and was good enough to consider entering the Olympic trials in that capacity, but she was "drafted" to enter the local track trials. She failed by one foot to gain a birth on the 1948 squad, but that only made her look forward to 1952, and the next edition of the games. Last summer she had the honor of being a member of the victorious 400 meter relay team that won the only American gold medal in the women's games. However, she doubted that she'll be a participant in the 1956 event.

Woonsocket Club Elects Devine As New President

Thomas Devine, of the Senior Class, was elected President of the Woonsocket Club of Providence College at the club's first meeting of this school year. This meeting was held recently at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Woonsocket.

Four other Seniors were also elected. They were: John Ryan, Vice President; John Giguere, Secretary; and Philippe Lamoreux, Treasurer.

Newly elected President Devine then presided over a regular business meeting at which plans for the club's annual Christmas Dance, and for its communion breakfast were discussed. An amendment to the constitution was also taken up.

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing don't crush or dig into the tobacco. Then, gently lift out the cylinder. See how free Luckies are from air spaces—"hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry—from loose ends that spoil the taste. Note that Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly—to give you a cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made better—to taste better! ## SPECIAL NOTE!

College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette—and by a wide margin. No. 1 reason given—Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

Hop Tickets Ready For All Classes Sat.

Paul James Asciolla, co-chairman of the Sophomore Hop committee, has advised the Sophomores to purchase their bids as soon as possible. With the Hop just two weeks away, Bob Prairie, ticket chairman, reported that due to the unexpected amount of upperclassmen who have bought tickets there are not enough bids left for the remainder of the class. The committee, however, will leave today, tomorrow and Friday open for Sophomore purchases only. No upper or lower classmen will be able to buy tickets during these three days.

The Hop which will be held November 14th, in the auditorium, will be high-lighted by the crowning of the queen and selection of her court. Application blanks, complete with instructions, are available at the ball box outside of the ticket booth. Nominations close November 7th. A committee of judges will be chosen from the faculty and the winner will be announced the night of the dance.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
